

Employment Opportunity

The PA Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) has an opening for a District Mining Manager in its Moshannon office. Duties of this position include supervising and managing staff in the Moshannon District Mining Office to ensure compliance with the Surface Mining Conservation and Reclamation Act, the Clean Streams Law, the Pennsylvania Solid Waste Management Act, the Air Pollution Control Act, and Department Policies. The employee in this position will review enforcement cases, negotiate financial agreements to treat post-mine discharges, and provide advice to a wide variety of municipal authorities, engineers, facility operators, and the public.

DEP is a state government agency responsible for administering Pennsylvania's environmental laws and regulations related to air, water, waste, mineral resources, radiation, energy, and community revitalization. Many DEP positions are civil service; therefore, applicants must participate in civil service examinations to be considered for employment.

In order to qualify for the District Mining Manager job, candidates must have eight years of professional experience in mineral resource management that includes three years of technical supervisory experience; and a bachelor's degree in an engineering or scientific field related to mineral resources; or an equivalent combination of education and experience in mineral resource management that includes three years of technical supervisory experience. Possession of a valid Pennsylvania driver's license and Pennsylvania residency are required.

Starting annual salary is $79,727, based on a 37.5 hour work week. Benefits include comprehensive health insurance; liberal retirement/pension plan; paid vacation, personal and sick leave; paid holidays; prescription, vision and dental coverage; paid group life insurance; and more.

Questions about eligibility, application procedures, or other job opportunities should be referred to the Bureau of Human Resources at (717) 783-6220 or by email at DEPJobs@pa.gov. You may also apply directly through the PA State Civil Service Commission at www.scsc.pa.gov.

There are a number of other employment opportunities currently open with DEP. Most positions require an undergraduate degree and/or experience in an engineering, scientific or technical field. Interested applicants should contact the Bureau of Human Resources at the phone number or email address referenced above for a complete listing of employment opportunities.
