exhaust and power plant emissions, also contribute to ozone creation. Horizontal and vertical mixing can lead to higher ozone levels as well. Human activity, like vehicle The heat really is one of the number one culprits. Ozone production is a photochemical process, so laboratories to drive down the cost of solar electricity. demonstration, and deployment projects by private making solar energy affordable for all Americans. The U.S. Department of Energy Pennsylvania Sunshot Initiative Projects Take Off in development. At this point, it appears that "Blue" may additional x-rays to examine the falcon's liver rehabilitation center. The blue-banded falcon is flying headquarters in Harrisburg this year, and have likely funded by the Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement (OSMRE), U.S. Department of forest setting, with habitat and food plots for wildlife. It will help to restore those stream segments to coal mine reclamation project in Sproul State Forest, of local partners celebrated the launch of a $7 million of Conservation and Natural Resources (DCED), Representatives Harry Lewis, and Tim Hennessey, staff for Senator Andrew Coatesville, Chester County. DEP joined staff on June 17, employees from DEP's Southeast Coatesville Gateway Project Breaks Ground. A mine emergency is a high-tension situation: emergency crews must make quick decisions that can dignity, by making sure that their questions and concerns for their families are addressed as fully as The key principle of the Mine Families First is to treat the families of trapped miners with respect and This "Mine Families First" mentality was later codified into law with the Mine Families First Act in be configured for other DEP programs as well, with the goal of equipping 350 inspectors by 2020. The app makes the inspection process more accurate and efficient, thanks to improved data quality, DEP has provided training; technical assistance; resource suggestions; and some funding to help developments as staff, partners, residents and government officials work toward a fully healthy Initiatives