

Dear Mr. Irvin,

The concerns are growing here in NEPA as we witness the migration of not only deer- so many getting killed on the roadways and looking to our back yards and places of work for refuge from the deforestation happening due to data center forest decimation. But the path of protected migratory birds, has been destroyed- many neighbors are reporting birds they've never seen stopping at their water sources (ponds) etc that have never stopped before and are lingering much longer than usual . I'm also concerned about the ENDANGERED INDIANA bats that have been displaced. My understanding was that the companies were required to create an alternative conservation area for the endangered species to migrate to- that was a federal requirement- BEFORE the deforestation was slated to occur. There are no such areas created. We potentially could witness the extinction of these little guys. My heart breaks.

Now let's talk about the HUMAN environmental hazards. Too many people are experiencing sleeplessness due to noise from construction happening all hours of the night- as well as blinding lights shining into their homes all night long. All this - for projects that actually HAVE NOT BEEN APPROVED ON A LOCAL LEVEL.. how is this possible!!?

If not for the federal protection of the endangered species, Is there no way to protect our lands? Our creatures? Or is the all mighty dollar truly the bottom line here?

What about the cancers caused from such high voltage to power these buildings?

What about the human life that will be affected?

Mr Irvin, we need your help here. We need to fight for our communities and the effects such large new industries and technologies will have on the LIFE of so many.

What can we do on our level to stop this madness?

Sincerely, one of your concerned fellow citizens, Shannon Marsyada